5. Market cap definitions are based on those used by Morningstar, where Giant-Cap are those companies that account for the top 40% of capitalization, Large-Cap is the next 30%, Mid-Cap is the next 20%, Small-Cap is the next 7%, and Micro-Cap is the last 3%. Eventide applies Morningstar's U.S. style zone to evaluate securities. Value is defined as having a current earnings yield greater than 10%. The performance and risk factor comparisons are against the S&P 500 Total Return Index. Prior to Q4 2020, Class N shares were displayed. Alpha is a measure of performance on a risk-adjusted basis. It takes the volatility (price risk) of a fund and compares its risk-adjusted performance to the Index. Any excess return of a fund relative to the return of the Index is a fund's alpha. Beta is a measure of the volatility of a fund relative to the Index. A beta greater than 1 is more volatile than the Index. R-Squared is a measure of how a fund's performance correlates with the Index's performance and it can help assess how likely it is that beta is statistically significant. Standard Deviation of return measures the amount of variation in historical performance from period to period.
9. Annualized since inception figures use an inception date of 07/01/2022 and not the actual inception date of 06/30/2022 as only full month data is used in Market Risk calculations.

Mutual funds involve risk including the possible loss of principal. Past performance does not guarantee future results. The Fund's ethical values screening criteria could cause it to under-perform similar funds that do not have such screening criteria. Large capitalization companies may be subject to more limited growth potential, and be less able to adapt to changing market conditions than smaller capitalization companies. The Fund has non-diversification risk as a high percentage of Fund assets may be invested in a limited number of companies and may be more susceptible to any single economic, technological or regulatory occurrence than a diversified fund. It may be susceptible to an increased risk of loss because the Fund's investments are concentrated in the semiconductor and software industries and the Fund may invest a substantial portion of its assets in one or more sectors of the economy, such as the technology, industrial, consumer discretionary and healthcare sectors. Semiconductor companies carry risks such as limited product lines, competition for qualified personnel, rapid obsolescence of equipment, and dependence on patent and intellectual property rights, the loss or impairment of which can adversely affect profitability. Software companies carry risks such as rapidly changing technology, rapid product obsolescence, competitive pressures, cyclical market patterns, availability and price of components and frequent new product introductions. The Fund can have risk related to option investing. There are special risks associated with investments in foreign companies including exposure to currency fluctuations, less efficient trading markets, political instability and differing auditing and legal standards. The Fund can invest in private companies. Private investments include various risks including but not limited to lack of liquidity, capital commitment risk, and valuation risk. Private companies may not be financially profitable and have uncertain futures, subjecting them to additional risks.
