Investment return and principal value will fluctuate with changing market conditions so that when redeemed, shares may be worth more or less than their original cost. Current performance may be lower or higher than the data quoted. Investors cannot directly invest in an index, and unmanaged index returns do not reflect any fees, expenses, or sales charges. The volatility of an index may be materially different than that of the Fund, and investors should not expect the Fund to achieve the same results as a listed index. - The Multi-Asset Income Blend is a proprietary Eventide benchmark composed of 50% Russell Midcap Index and 50% Bloomberg U.S. Intermediate Aggregate Bond Index. Prior to 12/30/2022, it was composed of 50% Russell Midcap Value Index and 50% Bloomberg U.S. Intermediate Aggregate Bond Index. The benchmark's composition was updated because the Fund's Adviser believes it is more reflective of the Fund's portfolio. The Russell Midcap Index measures the performance of the mid-cap segment of the U.S. equity universe. The Bloomberg U.S. Intermediate Aggregate Bond Index is a market capitalization-weighted index, meaning the securities in the index are weighted according to the market size of each bond type. Most U.S.-traded investment-grade bonds are represented. Municipal bonds and Treasury Inflation-Protected Securities are excluded. The index includes Treasury securities, Government agency bonds, mortgage-backed bonds, corporate bonds, and a small amount of foreign bonds traded in the U.S. The Russell Midcap Value Index measures the performance of the U.S. equity mid-cap value segment. Please refer to the Fund's Prospectus for additional index details.
- Performance figures for periods greater than 1 year are annualized. Annualized since inception figures use an inception date of 7/15/2015.
- Prior to Q4 2020, Class N shares were displayed.
- Represents the sum of all distributions from the period indicated. Distributions consist of dividend and interest income, capital gains, and/or return of capital. Shareholders should not assume that Fund distributions represent net profit. Income may be distributed regardless of whether such income will be treated as return of capital.
- 12-Month Yield is the sum of a fund's total trailing 12-month interest and dividend payments divided by the last month's ending share price (NAV) plus any capital gains distributed over the same period.
- SEC Yield is based on a 30-day (or one-month) period ending 09/30/2023 and is calculated by dividing the net investment income per share earned during the period by the maximum offering price per share on the last day of the period. For more information see SEC Form N-1A.

Hypothetical performance often shows markedly better results than actual management and should not be the basis for an investment decision. A variety of factors could impact investment

8. Source: Morningstar, 06/30/2023. Average effective duration provides a measure of a fund's interest-rate sensitivity. The longer a fund's duration, the more sensitive the fund is to shifts in interest rates.

Alpha is a measure of performance on a risk-adjusted basis. It takes the volatility (price risk) of a fund and compares its risk-adjusted performance to the Index. Any excess return of a fund relative to the return of the Index is a fund's alpha. Beta is a measure of the volatility of a fund relative to the Index. A beta greater than 1 is more volatile than the Index. R-Squared is a measure of how a fund's performance correlates with the Index's performance and it can help assess how likely it is that beta is statistically significant. Standard Deviation of return measures the amount of variation in historical performance from period to period.

10. Annualized since inception figures use an inception date of 08/01/2015 and not the actual inception date of 07/15/2015 as only full month data is used in Market Risk calculations.

Mutual funds involve risk including the possible loss of principal. Past performance does not guarantee future results. The Fund's ethical values screening criteria could cause it to under-perform similar funds that do not have such screening criteria. The Fund can have risk related to option investing. Investors in the Fund should be aware that interest rates may change at any time based on government policy. In general, the price of a fixed income security falls when interest rates rise. Longer term securities may be more sensitive to changes in interest rates. The intermediate-term bond portion of the Fund's portfolio may represent 0% to 100% of the Fund's portfolio with an average duration of between two and eight years. The Fund may invest, directly or indirectly, in "junk bonds." Such securities are speculative investments that carry greater risks than higher quality debt securities. The Fund can invest in smaller-sized companies which may experience higher failure rates than larger companies and normally have a lower trading volume than larger companies. There are unique risks associated with asset-backed securities, convertible securities, credit, foreign securities, hedging, income, LIBOR, MLPs, mortgage-backed securities, preferred stocks, prepayment, REITs, securities, U.S. Agency securities, and yieldcos that are covered in the Fund's prospectus and SAI.
